Gusty

Characteristics

• Second early maturity
• Sturdy erect Afila plant habit
• Uniform dark green berry colour
• Attractive, medium sieve size
• Good performance under disease pressure

Gusty is a new variety that consistently out-yields all others in its class. Its multi disease resistance allows processors to plant Gusty under heavy disease pressure, especially where Powdery Mildew and Downy Mildew occur.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Days</th>
<th>Heat Unit Celsius</th>
<th>Node 1st Flower</th>
<th>Height in Cm</th>
<th>Vine Type</th>
<th>Pods per Node</th>
<th>Pod Shape</th>
<th>Seeds per Kg</th>
<th>Disease Resistance</th>
<th>Sieve Size</th>
<th>Colour</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>62</td>
<td>673</td>
<td>10-13</td>
<td>71</td>
<td>AF</td>
<td>Double</td>
<td>Blunt</td>
<td>5,292</td>
<td>F1,F2, PM DMR</td>
<td>3.8</td>
<td>Dark</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Information in the chart is based on data collected in Moses Lake, WA. Any variety that is new to you should be tried in limited plantings under your conditions before you use it extensively.

Disease Abbreviations Key:

F1, F2 – Resistance to the respective races of Fusarium wilt;  DMT – Downey Mildew Tolerant;  PM – Powdery Mildew;  BLRV – Bean Leafroll Virus